SCOPE OF LESSON

This 2-hour lesson is an introductory level orientation to Commissary anti-robbery procedures. The end state of this lesson is for new Commissary employees to be able to recall the necessary steps to take in the event of a robbery at the store. The author's intent is that new employees learn anti-robbery principles and procedures and choose appropriate actions during a series of scenario-based exercises. By the end of the lesson, new employees should have a solid grasp of the actions to take if the store is being robbed. This lesson is common to all Commissary departments and links to other parts of the curriculum by reinforcing the character attributes of accountability and responsibility.

Instructional Guidance

Conduct of Lesson | NOTE: Before presenting this lesson, instructors must thoroughly prepare by studying this lesson and identifying reference material. - Watch the robbery video until it bores you. This is important because, during the Concrete Experience, you should be observing the students. - Before the lesson, set up one easel in each corner of the classroom. Place a marker set with each easel, and affix one scenario sheet (face down) to each easel. - Before class, play the video completely through one time. This will reduce computer lag.

1. The importance of this lesson: (Why)

Insert how this ties to the student's goals and mission, or how it makes their current operations easier, or more effective.

2. What we want our students to Achieve: (Outcomes/Standard)

Choose anti-robbery measures that are appropriate to the scenario based on your interpretation of both the scenario itself and the job aid. Choices must align with the anti-robbery principles taught in the lesson.

If not covered in Section V (Student Evaluation), you may do a detailed write-up of the assessment procedures for the lesson in this appendix. You can include or refer to Test Control SOPs, procedures for procuring and grading tests, or procedures for conducting performance assessments. It is OK to include performance checklists here, but DO NOT include written test items or their answers in this appendix.

APPENDIX C - Practical Exercises and Solutions

If the lesson has a stand-alone PE requiring coordination and detailed explanations, it can be written here. The write-up should include basic lesson plan elements, including the PE objective(s), resources, the time required, safety and risk information, and general procedures.

In TDCP, lessons using PE structure will have the PE included in this appendix. If your lesson has a learning step/activity that uses PE as the method of instruction, do not use this appendix.
